In January 2004, TransConstruct developed and placed on the market a foldable transport container. When folded, this box needs very little space, making it the perfect solution for economic return  $\square$   $\ddot{y}\square$   $\ddot{y}$  transport. Here is more information about the product.